PRODUCT DESIGNER

I design large-scale digital products and platforms, enjoying solutions that empower the target user. Having an engineering background, I thrive collaborating with technical teams while focusing on end-user usability. I have experience involving diverse and international open source communities in the development process.

EXPERIENCE

Sep 2019 — Present

Lead Product Designer / Arezzo Sky

Designing from scratch the next-gen no-code / low-code app-creation mobile platform: from discovery, to concepts, to developing the design system, to usability testing.

Nov 2015 — Aug 2019

Lead Interaction Designer / XWiki

Orchestrated the user experience across all XWiki's products. Designed tools and services that bridged the open-source community with the professional enterprise target.

Jan 2014 — Oct 2015

Applications Team Manager / XWiki

Managed a team of 5 developers in assuring a consistent user experience across 20 most valuable applications selected from over 600 open source community extensions.

Apr 2013 — Dec 2013

Front-end Team Lead / XWiki

Explored my technical side proposing and integrating into the XWiki Platform, the Bootstrap framework with LESS support. The result was a responsive HTML5 skin that evolved into the platform's most successful and extensible skin system, being the default skin for more than 5 major versions.

Mar 2009 — Mar 2013

Interaction Designer / XWiki

Practitioner of user experience when the field was very new. Worked on XWiki Enterprise, an open-source scalable platform downloaded across 115 countries. I've designed all the core features like Extension Manager, App Within Minutes, Search, Rights, Activity Stream, Administration, etc.
